

2011 GREEN EGGS & SAND Workshop on Delaware Bay

Looking to infuse a globally-significant ecological phenomenon and current real-world resource management controversy into your classroom?

Interested in meeting and learning firsthand from a select and diverse group of experts and stakeholders offering a wealth of knowledge and experience with the issues?

Take part in an intensive, full-weekend, not-to-be-missed, field-enriched workshop during the peak horseshoe crab spawning and shorebird-viewing time on Delaware Bay in May

Take home the award-winning, national-standards-keyed, M.S./H.S. targeted, video-and-activity-rich, Green Eggs & Sand curriculum

Where: Wetlands Institute (Stone Harbor, NJ) and lodging in Cape May, NJ

When: Friday, May 13 (starting at 6 PM) through Sunday, May 15 (ending at noon), 2011

Who to contact: Karen Leskie (609) 748-4347 karen.leskie@dep.state.nj.us

Fee: $100, covers all meals, lodging (Fri./Sat.) and all workshop materials

More about the workshop: The Green Eggs & Sand workshop commences with dinner Friday evening, May 13 and ends at noon on Sunday, May 15. Interspersed with expert presenters on horseshoe crabs (HSCs), shorebirds, biomedical use of HSCs, and HSC management, are sessions that explore the GE&S curriculum and provide demonstrations of the rich assortment of hands-on activities it offers. Field trips to Delaware Bay beaches are a special highlight of the weekend: including the opportunity to observe nighttime spawning of HSCs, a day trip to a Bay beach to observe HSC eggs and shorebird feeding, and the opportunity to help biologists tag horseshoe crabs.

More about the lodging: Lodging will be in the cabins of a local area campground. Participants will have to share accommodations. Each cabin has its own bathroom, air conditioning, and porch. Cabins have one double bed and one set of bunk beds. Participants are asked to bring their own bed linens, blanket and pillow. Although these and other conditions may challenge the comfort level of those accustomed to more privacy, the trade-off comes in being on-hand after workshop hours to socialize/network with experts and fellow participants. For those who seek alternative accommodations, a list of nearby motels is available. Reservations for such are to be made by individuals at their own expense, with the understanding that this does not reduce the workshop registration fee. Please indicate your lodging preferences, along with any special dietary or accommodation needs in the spaces below. Space is limited and registrations are taken on a first-come-first-serve basis. No-shows or cancellations that do not provide at least 2 weeks prior-to-workshop notice result in a forfeiture of registration fees. Full attendance at all workshop sessions is required for receipt of the curriculum package.
